

RICHMOND SOCIETY NOW TURNING EYES TOWARD EXPOSITION

Many Brilliant Functions Being Planned for the Coming Weeks.

THE REUNION ALSO COMING

Fine Lecture To-Morrow Evening Under Auspices of Woman's Club—Other Matters.

From gray days there has been an emergence into soft sunshine and sweet airs. People have taken heart of grace and realized that spring, the laggard, has at length made herself manifest.

Wednesday next is May Day, celebrated in song and story since early English times, when Spenser wrote:
"Then came fair May, the gayest mayd on ground, Deckt all with dainties of the season's pride."

The May-pole and the dancing around it have gone out of fashion, but the flowers and verdure render May ideal in its beauty, and the latter characteristic has given it the title of the "emerald month."

It is the most important month in the history of the State, because on May 13th the first permanent English settlement planted at Jamestown laid the foundations for the future of a great Commonwealth.

At the Jamestown Exposition the date of the first landing of the English colonists was splendidly marked on Friday last, April 26th, when the Chief Executive of the American nation came to do honor to the occasion, and the warships of many nations gathered to form one of the handsomest naval displays ever witnessed in the waters adjacent to the Exposition grounds.

The scene at the Virginia State Building on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when it was formally opened to the State's people, was brilliant in the extreme. Mrs. Swanson, as hostess, did the honors of the building and the occasion in such a graceful fashion that she won all hearts and made other Virginia women glad that the wife of the Chief Executive of the nation came to do honor to the occa-
tions gathered to form one of the
handsomest naval displays ever wit-
Exposition grounds.

Underlying the stirring of State pride aroused by the tercentenary celebration comes the deeper, tenderer realization that May is, throughout Virginia and the South, memorial month, when the memory of its heroes awakes to expression in song and flowers, and the annual tribute to fallen valor is paid.

In Richmond, memorial month this year is also to be reunion month. The shining line of gray will gather once again, hand will clasp hand once more, and in the unveiling of a great moniment to the President of the Confederacy, the comradeship of years ago will be pledged afresh.

The women of the South, represented by the officers and members of their memorial organizations, and by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, who have labored in the erection of this monument and carried it on to successful completion, will see in it the fruition of faithful effort and hope long delayed.

The special features of the reunion will be unusually attractive. Mrs.
Lizzie George Henderson, president of the United Daughters of the Confed-

MISS DAISY BRANNAN.

Miss Brannan has recently returned from a musicale in Washington, D. C., where she delighted a large audience by her rendition of "A Dream With Variations," by Bartlett.

Her Richmond friends will be glad to hear of her success in Washington; also that she has composed "The Pochontas Medley," which will be ready for publication in a few days.

Miss Brannan is the daughter of the late Edward I. Brannan, and is a popular and attractive young lady.

eracy throughout the South; Mrs.
George S. Holmes, of Charleston, S.
C., president of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association; Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, the venerable and beloved wife of the great Confederate captain; Mrs. Lucy Hill Macgill, daughter of General A. P. Hill, and many other distinguished Confederate women will assemble in the Capital of the Confederacy to be welcomed by those here who hold them dear, not alone for themselves, but for the cause they represent.

Beauvoir, the reproduction of Jefferson Davis's home, built by the members of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the Jamestown Exposition, and opened officially on Friday last, April 24th, will be a rallying point of interest for Southern women who come to the reunion and who will be naturally attracted to the exposition while in Virginia.

Mrs. Swanson is the hostess here, as elsewhere, by virtue of her position.
She will be assisted by hostesses from the different State chapters designated for each day. Mrs. Eustace Williams is resident hostess, and it is believed that Beauvoir, as Confederate women's headquarters, will be one of the pleasantest features of the exposition.

Foot Comfort

Carlessly constructed boots cause an improper adjustment of the feet to the body.

The effort of walking, without perfect equilibrium, not only results in an ungraceful motion but severely tries the nerves.

The nerves of the feet are quite as important to the general health as are those of the spine or head. Those in the irritated part quickly communicate with the rest "on the line" and a general remonstrance is the result. Perfect proportion and balance are features of every Patrician.

The Derby and University Styles are specially recommended for walking and shopping shoes. Their arch support enables the body to easily adjust its balance on the ball of the foot without the strain on the tendons resulting from an unsupported arch.
